REVIEW FOR EUROPE.

Since the sailing of last packet the heat in the Plate has been excessive, so much so that we must look back many years to find a precedent to the tropical temperature experienced during the fortnight. The thermometer stood many days over 100° F., and it is remarkable to note that the health of the city was never more satisfactory, and the export of the latter has already begun with much activity. Heavy shipments of wheat are being sent to the north. Everything is going on well. The plantations of maize produce a crop this season that will quite eclipse the gigantic yield of 1882. Oceans of maize stored for leagues and leagues in this province and in Santa Fe, and the outlook is one of the greatest prosperity. All the colonies have done well this season and the colonies are standing in all directions.

The current of emigration from Italy to these shores continues very strong and we may look forward to 100,000 new arrivals this year. Every stream, arriving from Italy lands shores—a far better class of emigrants than that of former years. This heavy influx of bone and sinew accounts for the rapid extension of colonies in Santa Fe and the great rise in the value of lands in that province. Land is selling for 200,000 per league, and at the rate of the value of land is advancing it will soon surpass that paid for prime lands in this province. Santa Fe is going ahead faster than any other province of the Argentine Republic.

Our wool markets continue flat, but the arrivals from the camp are immediately taken up; sheepfarmers are forwarding their wools in smaller quantities in view of the flat feeling of the market. The woolfarms of this province progress slowly; the slaughter continues very limited. The flocks in the Pampa Oriental are very active. The money market is easy and discounts are freely quoted at 7½; money is not quite so easy on stocks; the exchange market is flat; we quote: On London, 47½; Paris, 502.50; Antwerp, 504.50.

ways will do as much for the development of Uruguay as for that of this republic.

The trade figures of the B.A. Custom House for the past year have been published; they show a considerable increase compared with 1882. The figures are as follows:—

Imports.....	62,000,000
Exports.....	49,000,000
Total.....	111,000,000

The figures of trade for the Republic have not yet appeared, but we can base our calculations on the foregoing figures; starting from the basis that the imports of this Custom House represent 81 per cent of the total imports into the country, and that the exports of same stand for 69 per cent, we have the following results:—

Total imports.....	76,000,000
Do Exports.....	58,000,000
Do Imports.....	134,000,000

These may be considered approximate figures of the trade of the country for 1883. The figures of the statistical office will only appear next month. Glancing at these results, all must acknowledge that the year elapsed has been far and away the most prosperous in the history of the country, and the year that has dawned promises to be even more satisfactory; much stress is laid upon the balance of trade, but this excess of imports is represented by steel rails, bridges and engines. In order to gauge the advance of our trade the following comparative figures of the Buenos Aires Custom House will give a faint idea of the progress of the country—a progress which is much stronger in the Interior and up rivers than in the Custom House of this city:—

1883.....	102,000,000
1882.....	88,000,000
Balance.....	14,000,000

These figures are eloquent; it must be remembered that they only refer to this city, exclusive of the trade of the other parts of the country. No other South American Republic can stand in the light of this advance, which is daily becoming more visible and more rapid.

The permanent way of the Bahia Blanca extension of the Great Southern Railway has been completed, and the event is one of the most important of the new year. The inauguration of the new line is not distant; it will probably take place in April when passengers may run direct from one terminus to the other. The Southern Railway is now the greatest railway line in South America; branches will soon start from Tandil to Jurez and Tres Arroyos, and from Maipu to Mar del Plata. The Provincial Government has now begun a new line from Barracas to Cañuelas and Magdalena, a most important line through fertile and populated districts.

The new Chilean Minister, Mr. Montt, was received last week in the Government House with great "calor." The speeches which will be found in another column, breathe a great spirit of friendship, which forms a striking contrast with the strained relations of former years. The friendship between both republics is a further guarantee of peace in this country.

The land speculation in this market continues with unabated activity, and native and foreign capitalists are going heavily into land. The speculation is starting in all directions, and the advance of pastoral industry is the very best foundation to a speculation that must continue and increase with the capital flowing into the country, and the population that is swelled by the heavy arrivals from the Mediterranean; furthermore, the increase of animal stock in the Plate is so great that several hundred leagues of new land are needed every year for placing the surplus stock of our estancias. Full particulars of land sales during the fortnight will be found in another column.

The harvest, as we anticipated, has turned out most satisfactory; wheat and linseed have yielded immense crops, and the export of the latter has already begun with much activity. Heavy shipments of wheat are being sent to the north. Everything is going on well. The plantations of maize produce a crop this season that will quite eclipse the gigantic yield of 1882. Oceans of maize stored for leagues and leagues in this province and in Santa Fe, and the outlook is one of the greatest prosperity. All the colonies have done well this season and the colonies are standing in all directions.

GREAT LAND AUCTION.

Another great and most successful land auction took place at Bullrich's yesterday; and, although the attendance of bidders was smaller than at previous auctions, still many buyers were on the benches, and all the land sold without the aid of free lunch, free wine, or free cigars.

The first hands offered for sale are in the most distant part of the reclaimed Pampa, at a spot which only a year ago was only known to Government surveyors. It is called Poitague, and is a beautiful tract of land, as has been seen these lands, yet there was as much interest in them as if they were stocked and settled on by hundreds of Irish and Basque farmers.

Mr. Bullrich opened the auction with a sharp, short but able speech; and the first lot put up was No. 19, with fine fresh water lagoons on the land. After a very spirited bidding, the lot, four square leagues, was knocked down for $450,000 per square league.

Next lot offered was No. 22, which was sold at 46 per hectare, Lot 2, adjoining, also four leagues, and Lot 3, adjoining, also four leagues, and Lot 4, adjoining, also four leagues, and Lot 5,
